Lady Lions advance to first Final Four

By Mary Hume
For the Star

KANSAS CITY, Mo. — Who would have thought it would take just one day?

Who would have thought that Penn State would spend the final moments of the NCAA tournament's Midwest Regional championship game celebrating high school's best player in the Final Four as well as the region's best player in the region? It's a double celebration to complete the crowning of a midwest women's basketball superpower.

It's a double celebration, too, for the Lady Lions. They have no doubt won their first Final Four game. "We know we could beat them," Lady Lion center Andrea Caruso said. "But we didn't think we could do this."

Caruso was referring to Monday night's 86-65 win over Louisiana Tech. The Lady Lions, a team that hadn't lost in 27 games, a team that wasn't supposed to beat the Final Four, did it all.

But how did they do it? Penn State made an experienced, four-point guard — a team that was a double threat. Even the impending retirement of legendary coach Lino Scurry — Jack like just another mid-level Big Ten player. As if that's not enough, the Lady Lions had a star player in Caruso. Penn State's biggest win ever. "I can't say very much," Caruso said. "They did a great

PENN STATE WOMEN'S BASKETBALL

WE ARE...

THE LION SHRINE

Penn State's Lion Shrine was dedicated on Oct. 24, 1942, during Homecoming Weekend. The 13-ton block of Indiana limestone was molded into the most recognizable symbol of Penn State.

A gift of the Class of 1940, it rests in a natural setting of trees near Recreation Building. The Lion Shrine is the second-most photographed landmark in the state of Pennsylvania.

NITTANY LION LEGEND

Chosen by the student body in 1906, Penn State's original athletic symbol was the mountain lion which roamed central Pennsylvania. Since Penn State is located in the Nittany Valley at the foot of Mount Nittany, the lion was designated as a Nittany Lion.

In regional folklore, Nittany (or NitaNee) was a valorous Indian princess in whose honor the Great Spirit caused Mount Nittany to be formed.

107K STRONG

Penn State Football fans fill Beaver Stadium to the brim every fall, providing an electric and exciting atmosphere for the Nittany Lions each Saturday inside the nation's second-largest venue. The University Park campus becomes the third-largest city in Pennsylvania on football game days.

WHY NIA CHOSE PENN STATE

"I chose Penn state because I saw an opportunity to gain a valuable education as a graduate transfer student-athlete and to be a part of a well-respected women's basketball program and a staff that prides itself on developing players not only on the court but off the court. My decision to be a part of the Penn State family is definitely attributed to the high values that Coach Kieger, Coach Boggess, and the entire coaching staff expressed in their faith seeing my ability to contribute to a program and a team built on tradition, hard work and excellence. I recall during my several telephone conversations before making my official visit that I immediately felt the love and genuineness and sincerity in both Coach Kieger and Coach Boggess' voices. Because Coach Kieger has such a love and strong passion for the game, I was convinced that she would help me to get to the next level of my game. Starting new at Penn State is my opportunity to build great and long-lasting relationships with my new team and coaches that will grow while on the court and once the ball drops. I am looking forward to this new faith journey."

THE PENNSYLVANIA STATE UNIVERSITY

Penn State's historic mission of teaching, research, and public service — launched under the most modest of circumstances more than 150 years ago — now reaches into virtually all parts of Pennsylvania. Consider, for example, that the University now has 24 campuses across the Commonwealth, putting a Penn State education within practical reach of nearly every Pennsylvanian. In fact, more than 70 percent of Penn State's undergraduates are Pennsylvania residents.

Penn State is Pennsylvania's largest nongovernmental employer and has employees and expenditures in every one of its 67 counties. The University generates a total economic impact across the Commonwealth that surpasses $17 billion annually.

Part of that impact is derived from Penn State's research program, which brought more than $534 million in federal funds to Pennsylvania last year, and an additional $91 million from private industry. In addition, as part of its Invent Penn State initiative, the University has funded 21 innovation hubs, designed to bolster entrepreneurship and economic development in communities surrounding its campuses across Pennsylvania.

Penn State's outreach and online programs — ranging from 4H to Cooperative Extension, from summer camps to public broadcasting — provide educational and service programs to more than a million Pennsylvania households annually.

The University's presence throughout Pennsylvania today contrasts sharply with its humble beginnings. Chartered as a college of scientific agriculture, the institution was located in rural Centre County after James Irvin, a partner in the Centre Furnace iron works (remains of which can be seen today along East College Avenue), offered to donate 200 acres of farmland for a campus.

Founding President Evan Pugh wanted the fledgling institution to embody a new approach to higher education that blended classical studies with subjects that had practical value. He joined similar visionaries in other states in convincing Congress to pass the Morrill Land-Grant Act in 1862. The act gave individual states tracts of federal land to sell; the proceeds supported colleges that agreed to include engineering, science and the liberal arts as well as agriculture in their course of studies. In 1863, the Pennsylvania legislature designated Penn State the Commonwealth's sole land-grant institution. The lawmakers in effect bestowed on the privately incorporated college a public character. In return for state support, the institution assumed obligations of teaching, research and service that are normally associated with publicly owned land-grant universities in other states.

By the 1890s Penn State was making its mark. It ranked among the nation's 10 largest undergraduate engineering schools, a distinction it still holds. It established one of the nation's first collegiate agricultural experiment stations, and Professor Whitman Jordan's pioneering research on using fertilizers for soil enrichment had global impact on crop yields.

Penn State in 1871 became one of the first land-grant schools in the Northeast to admit women, graduated its first international student in 1890, and its first African-American student in 1905.

In the early 1900s, President Edwin E. Sparks supported a number of efforts to "carry the college to the people," as he liked to say. Technical institutes were established in various locations statewide for engineering education, beginning with an evening school in Allentown in 1910. In 1912, Penn State helped create a system of county agents in agriculture and home economics. Today, the Penn State World Campus, with its "anywhere, anytime" learning through the Internet, builds on that outreach tradition.

But undergraduate education remained foremost. Enrollment surpassed 5,000 students by 1936, including those attending several undergraduate centers that were created for students who, in the depths of the Great Depression, could not afford to leave their hometowns to get a college education. The centers offered the first year of baccalaureate studies and were the predecessors of today's statewide system of campuses. Thanks to this innovative approach to higher education, Penn State in the 1930s became Pennsylvania's largest single source of baccalaureate degrees, a distinction it holds to this day.

Following World War II, Penn State underwent unprecedented expansion, first to meet the needs of returning military veterans and later to accommodate the Baby Boom generation. Total enrollment at all Penn State campuses climbed to 40,000 by 1970.

The University also emerged on the national scene as a research powerhouse in fields as diverse as dairy science, acoustics, psychology and diesel engineering. The expansion of research went hand in hand with a steady increase in the number of graduate students. The University awarded its first graduate degree — a master's degree in scientific agriculture — in 1862, and the Graduate School was established in 1922. But overall graduate enrollment remained modest until the 1950s, then swelled steadily. The Graduate School has awarded to date approximately 130,000 master's, doctoral and other advanced degrees.

The University Park campus is Penn State's administrative and research hub. In addition, there are 19 primarily undergraduate campuses; Penn State Health Milton S. Hershey Medical Center and the College of Medicine; the Pennsylvania College of Technology; Penn State Law: Dickinson Law; the Penn State Great Valley School of Graduate Professional Studies; and the Penn State World Campus.

To date, Penn State has awarded more than 840,000 degrees, hallmarks of an educational experience second to none in quality. In addition, Penn State alumni — including 348,000 in Pennsylvania alone — have job- and social-networking opportunities that no other college or university in the Commonwealth can surpass.

WORLD'S LARGEST ALUMNI NETWORK

From a quiet gathering of alumni in a vacant Old Main classroom in 1870 to a powerful network of more than 176,000 members worldwide, the Penn State Alumni Association has been keeping alumni connected to the University and to each other for more than a century. It is the largest dues-paying organization of its kind in the world. Alumni Association members live in every county in Pennsylvania, every state in the United States, and in numerous countries around the world.

The mission of the Alumni Association is to connect alumni to the University and to each other, to provide valued services to members, and to support the University's mission of teaching, research, and service.

Along with degree holding members, one out of every eight current Penn State students belongs to the Blue & White Society, the Alumni Association's student membership contingent.

Today, that mission is brought to life through events and programs such as; City Lights, pep rallies, Huddle with the Faculty, Alumni Reunion Weekend, Homecoming events, and so much more.

The mission is also embodied in the Alumni Association's commitment to recognize outstanding alumni and alumni volunteers through its award programs.

PRESIDENT ERIC J. BARRON

Patrick Mansell

Eric J. Barron took the helm of Pennsylvania's flagship public university on May 12, 2014, arriving from Florida State University, where he had been president for four years. No stranger to Happy Valley, he had previously spent 20 years of his career at Penn State, serving on the faculty of the College of Earth and Mineral Sciences and as dean of the college.

Dr. Barron has nearly 40 years of leadership experience in academic administration, education, research and public service, and a track record as a talented manager of fiscal policy within large and complex institutions. In recognition of his expertise and leadership in higher education, he was named chairman of the Commission on Innovation, Competitiveness and Economic Prosperity for the Association of Public Land-grant Universities (APLU) in fall 2017.

As leader of Penn State, Dr. Barron oversees a research enterprise of more than $863 million and more than 20 campus locations. His responsibilities also include oversight of two law schools, the internationally recognized online educational enterprise known as the Penn State World Campus, and a nearly $2 billion health enterprise, which includes the Penn State College of Medicine and the Penn State Health network, in Hershey, Pa. Penn State's current enrollment is approximately 99,000 students, and it boasts the world's largest dues-paying alumni association in the world.

During his tenure as president of Penn State, Dr. Barron has made access and affordability; student engagement; economic development; job creation and student career success; technology and diversity and demographics priorities. His Invent Penn State initiative aims at ramping up investment in economic development and student career success. By leveraging the size and broad research strengths of the University, Dr. Barron has made it a goal that Penn State will be a driver for job creation, entrepreneurship, and economic development, and will accelerate the transfer of new ideas into useful products and processes that encompass a broad range.

Since its inception, Invent Penn State has partnered with the University's campuses across the Commonwealth to open 21 innovation hubs available to the surrounding communities. Since opening, the hubs have accelerated more than 100 startups, supported nearly 3,000 faculty, staff, students and community entrepreneurs, and hosted more than 100 events and pitch competitions.

As part of his fiscal duties, Dr. Barron has pursued various cost-saving measures and increased revenue for Penn State in an effort to lower the University's cost structure while continuing to focus on academic excellence and fulfilling Penn State's land-grant mission.

Dr. Barron earned a bachelor of science degree in geology at Florida State in 1973 before moving on to the University of Miami, where he earned master's and doctoral degrees in oceanography. At Penn State, Dr. Barron served as dean of the College of Earth and Mineral Sciences from 2002-06, and as founding director of the Earth System Science Center, one of the first major initiatives focused on the total study of Earth as a system. He also had a simultaneous appointment as director of the Earth and Mineral Sciences Environment Institute. In 1999, he was named Distinguished Professor of Geosciences at Penn State.

An accomplished scientist with a long background in atmospheric research, Dr. Barron served as director of the National Center for Atmospheric Research (NCAR) and as dean of the Jackson School of Geosciences at the University of Texas at Austin. Early in his career he was a postdoctoral research fellow and scientist at the National Center for Atmospheric Research in Boulder, Co.

VICE PRESIDENT FOR INTERCOLLEGIATE ATHLETICS SANDY BARBOUR

With student success and comprehensive excellence as a steadfast focus, Sandy Barbour enters her sixth year as the dynamic leader of the Penn State Intercollegiate Athletic program. Barbour has helped the Nittany Lions continue to ascend and thrive as one of the nation's most successful athletic departments.

Barbour has more than 35 years of varied experiences as a collegiate administrator and coach, with a demonstrated record of championships, academic success, innovation, facility modernization and revenue growth. She began her passionate and effective leadership of the Penn State Athletic program in August 2014, when she was named the Nittany Lions' ninth Director of Athletics by President Eric J. Barron.

In February 2019, Barbour received a contract extension through August 31, 2023, and assumed the title of Penn State Vice President for Intercollegiate Athletics.

THE "WHY" - PREPARING STUDENTS FOR A LIFETIME OF IMPACT

Barbour began implementing her vision for Penn State Intercollegiate Athletics and creating conditions for success for the department's "Why" – the more than 800 Nittany Lion student-athletes. She oversees a broad-based program that supports students competing in 31 sports and a staff of more than 300 individuals whose daily mission is preparing students for a lifetime of impact.

A reorganization of ICA introduced four administrative divisions: student-athlete performance, health and welfare; internal and external relations and operations, administration and business and finance. Barbour also announced a wide-ranging strategic planning process to determine strategies and priorities for the formalized 2017-21 strategic plan.

EXCELLENCE IN ACADEMICS AND ATHLETICS

Penn State student-athletes have consistently raised the bar and broken or tied school academic records in the last five years, including the number of Academic All-Big Ten and Big Ten Distinguished Scholar recipients in 2018-19. Spring 2019 concluded with another record as the Nittany Lions delivered a 3.17 grade-point average for the semester.

Eighteen Nittany Lions have earned CoSIDA Academic All-America accolades during Barbour's tenure, boosting Penn State's all-time total to 205, No. 4 nationally among Division I institutions.

In November 2018, the NCAA reported its annual national graduation rates study, and, for the second-straight year, Penn State student-athletes tied a school record with a Graduation Success Rate (GSR) of 90 percent. Eight Nittany Lion teams earned a perfect 100 percent GSR.

SIX NCAA TEAM CHAMPIONSHIPS AND 29 CONFERENCE TITLES

During Barbour's five years in Happy Valley, the Nittany Lions have captured six NCAA Championships in women's soccer, women's volleyball and wrestling and won 24 Big Ten titles and five EIVA crowns for 29 total conference championships.

In 2018-19, Penn State captured its fourth consecutive NCAA Wrestling Championship and six Big Ten regular-season or tournament titles in wrestling, men's lacrosse, women's soccer and men's gymnastics. A total of 19 squads participated in their respective NCAA Championship or a bowl game in 2018-19 and Penn State ranked ninth in the year's final Learfield IMG College Directors' Cup standings.

AD OF THE YEAR RECIPIENT IN 2016-17 AND FINALIST IN 2018

Barbour's leadership was recognized with her selection for the prestigious National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics (NACDA) Under Armour AD of the Year Award in 2016-17. Twice Barbour has been named a finalist for Sports Business Journal's prestigious Athletic Director of the Year, most recently in 2018.

Forbes also has recognized Barbour among the top executives in sports. In 2018, she was selected No. 13 among the Most Powerful Women in Sports and No. 2 overall in college sports. In 2015, Forbes named her one of the Top 25 Most Powerful People in College Sports, noting Barbour "has developed a reputation for being one of the most forward-thinking administrators in all of college sports."

Barbour is a member of the NCAA Football Oversight Committee, and in 2017, the United States Olympic Committee (USOC) appointed her as one of the inaugural members of its Collegiate Advisory Council.

A PATH OF SUCCESSFUL LEADERSHIP

Serving as the Director of Athletics at Cal from 2004-14, Barbour guided the Golden Bears through one of the most successful periods in school history. Twenty team national championships, 97 individual national titles, and six top-10 finishes, including No. 3 in 2011, in the annual Learfield Directors' Cup standings were highlights of her tenure.

Barbour was the deputy director of athletics at Notre Dame, the senior athletic administrator from July 2002 to September 2004. She oversaw facilities and event operations and was also responsible for developing, maintaining and implementing the university's $127 million athletics facilities master plan.

In 1996, Barbour was appointed Tulane's director of athletics at age 36. The Green Wave won four conference championships in her first year, a feat never before accomplished, and continued its success with 12 titles in three years. She hired Tommy Bowden as football coach and the Green Wave posted its first winning season in 16 years. The next season, Tulane went 12-0, won a Conference USA title and earned a No. 7 national ranking as 1998 Liberty Bowl champions.

Born in Annapolis, Md., Barbour grew up in a military family. Her father was a career aviator in the U.S. Navy, and her family lived in various U.S. locations and in Western Europe during her childhood.

Barbour graduated cum laude in 1981 with a B.S. degree in physical education from Wake Forest University, where she was a four-year letterwinner and captain of the field hockey team. She also played two seasons of women's basketball for the Demon Deacons.

Barbour earned advanced degrees at the University of Massachusetts (an M.S. in sports management in 1983) and Northwestern's Kellogg School of Management (an MBA in 1991). Barbour's career in intercollegiate athletics began as a field hockey assistant coach and lacrosse administrative assistant at Massachusetts in 1981.

DEPUTY DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS LYNN HOLLERAN

A Pennsylvania native, Holleran joined Penn State in March of 2015 after serving 12 years at the University of Minnesota, including four years as the Director of the McNamara Academic Center for Student-Athletes.

During her four-plus years as director of the McNamara Academic Center, Holleran supervised an academic support operation that served approximately 750 student-athletes in 25 varsity programs. Under Holleran's direction, she helped improve Minnesota's Academic Progress Rates (APR) to their highest numbers in University history, with the overall 2012-13 APR score ranking No. 4 among all Football Bowl Subdivision institutions. Her efforts also resulted in the highest cumulative grade-point averages and graduation rates for the Golden Gophers' programs.

Holleran began her 12-year affiliation with the University of Minnesota in 2003, serving as the Deputy Chief of Staff in the Office of the President. In her role, she assisted the University president, vice president and chief of staff with strategic planning and supervision of several areas, including intercollegiate athletics, as well as the day-to-day President's Office operations and budget. Holleran also was a member of a cross-functional team that managed the logistics of planning and launch of the new TCF Bank Stadium on campus.

Prior to Minnesota, Holleran was a Senior Associate Athletic Director and the Senior Woman Administrator at Boston College from 1993-2003. She was the primary administrator for 12 programs and had oversight of compliance, policy development/analysis and Title IX adherence for all 31 programs among her responsibilities.

Holleran began her career in intercollegiate athletics at Northwestern University, serving as the Assistant Director of Academic & Student Services from 1986-93, while attending graduate school.

Born in Pittsburgh, Holleran earned a bachelor's degree in economics and business management at Beloit College, where she was a standout basketball, soccer and softball student-athlete. She was inducted into Beloit's Hall of Honor in 1997. Holleran earned a master's degree in management/organizational behavior and marketing from Northwestern's Kellogg School of Management.

SENIOR ASSOCIATE ATHLETICS DIRECTOR/SWA CHARMELLE GREEN

Charmelle Green was named Senior Associate Athletic Director and Senior Woman Administrator at Penn State in March 2015. Green is responsible for the management, supervision, and evaluation of women's volleyball, men's and women's cross country and track & field, softball, and ability athletics.

In her role, she is also responsible for the management, supervision, and evaluation of Intercollegiate Athletics Sport Performance unit, which includes medical services, athletic training, strength & conditioning, sports nutrition, and sports psychology. She also manages, supervises and evaluates the Intercollegiate Athletics Student Welfare and Development unit, which develops and implements life skills programs, and resources for student-athletes.

Green has served on numerous department and university-wide committees, including the search committee for former Penn State football coach Bill O'Brien, the University search committee for Vice President and General Counsel, the University Policy Review Committee, the University Employee Leadership Steering Committee, the University's Employee Education Initiative Team, the University Response Coordination Committee, and Faculty Senate's Intercollegiate Athletics Committee. Green also serves as the University's Deputy Title IX Coordinator.

Green came to Happy Valley in 2011 as Associate Athletic Director and Senior Woman Administrator. Prior to joining Penn State, Green served as the head of the Office of Student-Athlete Welfare & Development and the sport administrator for women's swimming & diving at the University of Notre Dame. During Green's six years in Notre Dame's athletic administration, she oversaw the student development program, with the mission of providing a balanced Notre Dame experience for student-athletes by focusing on five key areas: academic excellence, athletic success, career preparation, community involvement and personal development.

Prior to joining athletic administration at Notre Dame, Green was an assistant softball coach from 2001-05. During her tenure on the coaching staff, the Fighting Irish were selected for the NCAA Tournament four times and won four Big East Conference regular season championships.

An All-American softball player at the University of Utah, Green spent time in Salt Lake City after graduation working as a recreation program coordinator from 1995-98. She was also an integral part of developing an advisory board for the development of an inner-city school for the arts.

A Western Athletic Conference standout, Green was a two-time softball All-American, earning both first team (1990) and second team (1991) accolades during her career at Utah. Green was named WAC Player of the Year as a senior. She was inducted into the University of Utah's Hall of Fame in 2001.

A 1991 Utah graduate with a degree in mass communications/public relations, Green earned a masters degree in secondary education in 2003 from IU South Bend.

BIG TEN CONFERENCE

BIG LIFE. BIG STAGE. BIG TEN.

Since its inception in 1896, the pursuit and attainment of academic excellence has been a priority for every Big Ten member institution. But maintaining the conference's standard of competing at the highest level in athletics also endures as an important component of the Big Ten experience. Striking that balance between academics and athletics is integral to the Big Ten's identity. Recognized as one of intercollegiate sports' most successful undertakings, the Big Ten strives for success from its students not only on the field and in the classroom, but around the world as well.

PREMIER ACADEMIC INSTITUTIONS

The Big Ten Academic Alliance is an academic consortium of all 14 Big Ten universities, which is widely considered to be the model for effective and voluntary collaboration among top research universities.

Every Big Ten Academic Alliance institution ranks among the top 65 universities in the nation according to the 2017 Academic Ranking of World Universities, including five in the top 25.

The Big Ten leads all conferences with more than 1,800 Academic All-Americans, including 37 honorees during the 2018-19 academic year.

Big Ten Academic Alliance schools annually conduct $10 billion in funded research, $5 billion more than any other conference.

A HISTORY OF ATHLETIC SUCCESS

Big Ten schools have won at least five national championships in 24 of the last 25 years including an average of seven per year over the last 13 years.

Since the 2008-09 academic year, current Big Ten institutions have claimed 76 team national championships in 21 different sports.

LEADERS IN INNOVATION

- Took part in the nation's first bowl game, winning the 1902 Rose Bowl Game, and signed an exclusive contract with the Tournament of Roses in 1946, making it the first bowl with permanent conference affiliations.
- Awarded the first Big Ten Medal of Honor in 1915, honoring outstanding seniors who demonstrated excellence in academics and athletics.
- Formed the Big Ten Advisory Commission in 1972, enlisting former students that competed in conference athletics to serve as liaisons to the NCAA's Diversity and Inclusion Department, the Big Ten Student-Athlete Advisory Commission and other organizations.
- Became the first conference to voluntarily adopt male and female participation goals after launching its Gender Equity Action Plan in 1992.
- Implemented the first collegiate football system of instant replay in 2004, which the NCAA approved for use among all conferences in 2006.
- Launched the Big Ten Network (BTN) in 2007, the first national conference-owned television network.
- Began partnering with the Ivy League to study the effects of head injuries in sports in 2012.
- Accepted Johns Hopkins University as the conference's first sport affiliate members in men's and women's lacrosse in 2013 and 2015, respectively, and added Notre Dame as a sport affiliate member in men's ice hockey in 2017.

PASSIONATE FOLLOWING

The Big Ten leads all conferences with 5.7 million alumni and nearly 580,000 students.

Each year more than 11 million patrons attend Big Ten home contests, as the conference has led the nation in attendance for men's basketball, ice hockey, volleyball and wrestling.

EXTENSIVE TELEVISION EXPOSURE

Through the Big Ten's current media agreements with BTN, ABC/ESPN, CBS and FOX, more than 2,000 Big Ten events are produced and distributed nationally and globally on an annual basis.

BTN is in almost 60 million homes across the United States and Canada, and is also available internationally via the Fox Sports App, delivering live and on-demand programming to computers, smartphones and tablets. BTN Plus streams hundreds of additional events each season.

BROAD-BASED PROGRAMMING

The Big Ten will administer over $200 million in direct financial support to more than 9,800 students competing in intercollegiate athletics for more than 11,000 participation opportunities on more than 350 teams in 42 different sports.

The Big Ten sponsors 28 official conference sports, 14 for men and 14 for women, including the addition of men's ice hockey and men's and women's lacrosse the last five years.

The Big Ten leads the nation in total students competing in intercollegiate athletics and participation opportunities, and sponsors more official sports than all conferences except the Ivy League.

Almost 1,400 Big Ten competitors have participated in the Olympics, winning more than 600 medals, including nearly 300 gold. In the 2016 and 2018 Olympic Games, more than 200 representatives from Big Ten institutions including current or former students and coaches were members of Olympic teams. Big Ten Olympians collected more than 50 medals in the most recent games in Rio and PyeongChang.

COMMUNITY INVOLVEMENT

For more than 30 years, through the Big Ten's SCORE (Success Comes Out of Reading Everyday) program, the conference has partnered with Chicago elementary schools to improve reading performance.

Surrounding the Big Ten Football Championship Game and Basketball Tournaments, the conference has held numerous community initiatives, partnered with the College Football Playoff Foundation and other events such as the Big Ten Career Expo, Saturday of Service and Youth Football Clinics. In addition, the Big Ten has hosted a downtown 5K, collaborated with a local breast cancer awareness group and provided unique event experiences for military veterans.
